THAT the schools of America were to feel the impact of war was a foregone conclusion once our country became actively engaged in the conflict. Colleges and universities were the first to be adversely affected, as was to be expected. But with the lowering of the draft age to include eighteen and nineteen year olds, the high schools are also drawn directly into this greatest of all world conflicts.

The pages of this book, the 1943 Hoosier Poet, reveal in part the numerous ways in which our school is attempting to gear its program to the war effort—by organizing for the sale of bonds and stamps, by Red Cross activities, by collecting scrap, and by raising funds for war relief. Perhaps a more important indication of the effect of the war is the changing curriculum especially for older students, the purpose of which is to better prepare our young men and women for participation in the war effort.

In the organization and administration of our school and in the instruction in the classrooms, we are trying to do our part in winning the war. But we also have tried to be mindful of the need for maintaining the "general education", and the necessity of educating for life after the war is over. We are trying somewhat desperately in these days of uncertainty to help our pupils to work and plan and dream for a just and durable peace, and to give them a faith for tomorrow such as that expressed by the young English soldier in these two stanzas of the poem "Soldier, Young Soldier".

I'd like to feel when the job has been done
We'll all have a hand in the peace we have won;
That all of us strong by the pattern of war
May build for the future as never before.

I'd like me to know that all over the world
A just flag of freedom was flying unfurled.
That none of the nightmare was really in vain,
That none of the nightmare need happen again."

RILEY GEARS FOR WAR

Through the doors of Riley come hundreds of students each day where a modern curriculum awaits them—a curriculum designed to prepare them for their place in the great struggle now at hand, as well as for citizenship in a great democracy. In addition to the great many classes that make up the broad program of studies regularly taught in this school, a number of special War Classes have been added. All juniors and Seniors are taking at least two of these classes. Riley has been geared to the war effort. In these pages we try to show you how this has been done.

WAR STAMPS and BOND SALES

Under the direction of their War Council, the students set a goal for War Stamps and Bonds sales at $20,000. This goal was soon surpassed, and the quota will be nearly doubled by June 1st. Above, Robert Swantz, shows the Stamp and Bond thermometer surpassing the $20,000 goal, while Dona Lou Wilson and Lowell Gray proudly watch. Below, the War Council officers: Vivian Rawley, Sec.; Robert Swantz, Pres.; Melvin Feldman, V. Pres.; Jerry Cox, Treas.

SALVAGE DRIVES and RATIONING

In addition to the successful scrap iron drive last fall, the drive for tin cans this spring yielded 36,000 cans weighing over 5,000 pounds. Honor went to the following rooms: Mr. Farrell, Miss Snoke, Miss Kiel, and Mrs. Myers. Below: Scene as teachers prepare ration books for War Ration books number Two.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Education Department has been geared at top speed to prepare students, not only for the business offices, but for the Service as well. Above, These boys, in their typing class receive instruction in Army and Navy correspondence procedure. Below, Girls in the office practice classes master the dictaphone, as well as many other office procedures.

MATHEMATICS, AERONAUTICAL GEOGRAPHY

Classes in mathematics are offered in Algebra, College Algebra, Geometry, Trig, as well as refresher courses. Girls, as well as boys expecting to enter technical branches of the Service, are electing these courses. Below: The Aeronautical Geography class is conducted to enable young people to understand the world we live in.

PHYSICS, RADIO

The classes in Physics are designed to acquaint students, both boys and girls, with the fundamentals of the great technical progress so necessary for success in this war. Below: The Radio class learns the elements of this science by dismantling and reassembling radio sets in the laboratory. Many of the sets were donated to the class.

CLOTHING, NUTRITION

Besides learning the elements of sewing, these girls have done fine work for the Red Cross. Below: Nutrition holds a vital place in the war program because it is concerned with the various kinds and proper amounts of food that are necessary for good health. We on the home front must keep ourselves fit for the job the war requires of us.

MACHINE SHOP, ELECTRICITY

No longer do girls think mysterious things go on behind doors of the machine shop. This is a Peoples War, and women have taken their place in defense work. Riley girls are preparing themselves. These girls are learning to operate a milling machine. Below: A class for boys in basic electricity, part of the pre-induction training.

MACHINE SHOP, NURSE CHEMISTRY

That classes in machine shop training for girls are popular is attested by the number that elect them. These girls shown here are receiving training in the simple operations of machine lathes. Below: The class in nurses chemistry is one of the largest in the Science Department. This class was designed for girls who will shortly enter nurses training.

AERONAUTICS

The class in Aeronautics is one of the most popular offered to boys, and rightly so. In the picture above, students are testing the air pressure on an airplane wing. The air is blown through a tunnel designed by members of the class. Below: Examining the cylinder from a motor that powers one of our modern fighting planes.

DRAFTING, CHEMISTRY, AIRPLANE MODEL

Girls in the drafting class will be able to take their places in the war effort when they finish the course. Center: Students in this chemistry class study the science in the light of betterment of life. Below: These classes build model airplanes of all types for identification purposes.

MECHANICAL DRAWING, INSPECTION, MACHINE SHOP

Considerable emphasis is placed on training in mechanical drawing. Many of the girls can do capable work in tracing upon completion of the course. Center: This large class of girls is taking an intensive course in precision inspection. Below: Boys in the advanced machine shop classes can turn creditable work before graduation.

THE PHYSICAL

Early in the school year it was evident that considerable emphasis should be placed on a physical fitness program for both boys and girls. Gym classes in the upper grades were organized on a five-day a week basis, and none were excused from the program unless it was evident they were unable to take the training.

FITNESS PROGRAM

This intensified physical education program was designed for the purpose of "toughening up" our boys and girls and getting them in top physical condition. The outdoor training course pictured on these two pages, a counterpart to the one used by the service men, was popular with all classes.

FIRST AID, HEALTH

Classes in first aid, taught in cooperation with the physical fitness program were given to equip students to meet emergencies and accidents of all types. Below is a scene in the health education class, a required subject for all.

THE SENIOR CLASS

This senior class realizes the grave problems that face our country at this, our graduation time. We will be called on to serve in many different ways, and we know we will be ready. Soon, we will be scattered in every direction—to other schools, to offices, war industries, and to the various branches of our Armed Forces.

In going, we feel more than ever before the privilege that has been ours to live and be educated in a democracy. We have become aware of nine great freedoms that form the bulwark of our way of living. These we have attempted to explain during the senior pages that follow. It is our promise that as long as we shall live, we will do everything to keep these freedoms as a basic part of our democracy.

O thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust!"
And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

MUSIC AND DRAMA

With the school setting a swift pace to keep its program of studies geared to the war effort, there was no let-down in the part of the student organizations that build morale. To the Orchestra, Band, Glee Club and Drama Club goes the major share of the credit for bringing to the school the finest in entertainment.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra under its new director, Mr. Dean, got a late start this year, since Mr. Dean wished to devote most of his time early in the year getting the band ready for the football season. The Orchestra was well under way by the end of the first semester, playing the Commencement program at Centre Township's graduation. They did a creditable job in the pit for the review, "From War to War" and will be heard at the Riley Commencement program.

BAND

The Band, also under Mr. Dean's direction, turned in fine performances. They got down to work early and were as popular as ever at all home football games as well as basketball games.

This year, as before, they played for the local merchants' Christmas Parade, the War Bond Rally and the fall Window Show.

On April 16 the Band presented its annual concert in the Auditorium to a capacity crowd playing difficult numbers with the technique of veterans.

Mr. Dean, for his first year at the helm of these two organizations, is to be congratulated on the splendid performance given.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club, under Miss Kantzer, lives up to the traditional reputation this enviable organization has made. This year, through co-operation with the Orchestra and Drama Club, it staged the review, "From War to War". Probably no review ever given at Riley reached the heights of this production, one matinee and three evening performances being required to satisfy the crowds who came to see it. In addition the Glee Club gave its Christmas program "Christmas Comes to King Arthur's Court," numerous concerts throughout the year, and will present its annual Guest Concert on May 24th.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Betty Jo Hansen this year, also turned in fine performances. Their first semester production, "Stage Door" won wide acclaim, while their later play, "Mrs. Miniver", thrilled two packed audiences.

Shortly before spring vacation the Hi-Y Club gave their traditional Easter program, presenting "The Faithless" to both assemblies.

STAGE CLUB

Much credit goes to the Stage Club for the success of Riley's stage productions this year. They are: Tom Gillen, Stage Manager, Wayne Welcome and Max Clause, lights, Eugene Nye, sound, John Devite, scenery, Dale Auer, Don Auer and Lawrence Alford, settings.

THE ORCHESTRA

"FROM WAR....

The Glee Club production "From War To War" was the outstanding musical show of the school year. The players gave up hour after hour of their free time preparing for it, and a large share of the proceeds were given to War Charities.

"From War To War" revived in song and music the popular song hits that captured the fancy of the American people from the first world war to the present one. Several scenes from the screen and stage were also revived.

Pictured on this and the following two pages are scenes from this production. First column, top to bottom: Scene from the once popular ballad, "Pretty Baby." A hit of the evening was one of the greatest song hits ever written, "Alexander's Rag Time Band".

The boys and their "molls" once had their day so it was revived with considerable success.

Once upon a time we waited breathlessly from one week to another and packed the motion picture houses to see "Perils of Pauline".

Second column: Even the fathers and mothers of the cast howled with delight when "The Three Little Fishes" swam out to sea only to encounter the big bad whales.

These lads sang "Over There" in the review with as much gusto as their fathers sang it twenty-five years ago.

"The Wedding of The Painted Dolls" seemed as popular with today's audience as it did to those twenty years ago.

.... TO WAR"

First column, top to bottom. Not many years ago the romantic gypsy caught the fancy of our song writers. Here is a scene from "Play Gypsy, Dance Gypsy".

Wildcat Junction. Another scene from the gay '20's when bold bandits shot up places with amazin' recklessness.

Second column. And then there was the time when the music of Hawaii swept the country, and the one who could play the guitar was never lonesome. A scene from "Aloha Oe".

Another scene from Wildcat Junction where everyone dances the Big Apple, that is if there wasn't too much shootin' going on to disturb the dancers.

A very popular scene in the review was "Frenchy", who couldn't make up his mind just who he was in love with.

Now we go strictly modern with "Rosie the Riveter", the modern girl who can do a man's work any day.

"FROM WAR TO WAR"

Once there was the golden age when it was popular to go "Collegiate", and the boys on the campus dressed in a most outlandish manner.

The Review, of course, had to be introduced to the audience, scene by scene. Meet Wilbur Campbell and Marilyn Glenn, who kept the show running smoothly.

And now we go away back when there was a lot to a bathing suit. Here is a scene from an old time favorite, "Bobbin' Up and Down".

Second column. Many an audience sat in suspense when the mystery thrillers were popular with the American people. Here is a scene from the "Green Chartreuse".

A popular song of a few years back, "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses", was a popular revival in this review.

KING ARTHUR'S COURT

For it's annual Christmas play this year, the Glee Club selected, "Christmas Comes to King Arthur's Court". Below are scenes from the play. Top, Bud Medich and Irene Kuzmic as the King and Queen. Second Row, Marion Davies, Burns Hummer, Shirley Webster and Jack Wedel; Geneva Wagner, Gloria Knepp, Kay Bristow, and Louis Mihajlovich. Bottom row, Gene Nelson and Theo Koelndorfer; Gene Slater and Ruth Baumbach, all members of the Court. In addition to the play, the Glee Club sang it's usual concert of Christmas songs. This program was given at two assembly periods, and drew a large number of school patrons.

THE BAND

Before a large and appreciative audience, the Band presented its annual concert on April 16th in the auditorium.

THE HI-TIMES

To Riley goes the distinction of editing and publishing one of the finest and most progressive high school newspapers in the state. The numerous details connected with the task of publishing this paper every Friday during the school year, rests with Miss Wyrick and her capable staff shown on this page.

Assignments for special news stories are given to reporters every Friday afternoon along with the regular news reports. These must be typed, edited and made ready for the linotype. Then comes the job of proof reading and correcting, after which the layout for pages must be made by the page editors. This is no little job in itself, for a story must fit on the page it was intended. After the paper comes from the printer early Friday morning, comes the task of counting and delivering each room's allotment in time for distribution to the subscribers.

An interesting project started by the Hi-Times this year, was the sending of a copy each week to Riley graduates in the Service whose address is definitely known. This is a difficult job in as much as addresses change frequently. But the papers go out each week, and are welcomed by hundreds of boys in the Service.

THE HOOSIER POET

The task of planning, editing and publishing a year book is likewise a difficult task. Every year the selecting of a theme confronts Mr. Koch and his staff. This year it was rather an easy task since the school's war effort logically presented itself, and it was adopted.

Then came the job of planning the pictures to be taken and the actual job of taking them. If some turned out to be unacceptable, and many times they do, they must be retaken.

Many times the photographs do not fit the layout made by the Art Staff. Then the layout must be changed, and many times this necessitates the changing of the corresponding page.

Then comes the most difficult job of all—the art staff's task of fitting the photos together for each page, scaling them for the proper reduction, and pasting them together. One senior page alone requires hours of work.

During this time the literary staff is preparing copy, editing and cutting it to fill the required space, while the advertising and circulation staffs are busy on their assigned tasks.

COACHES IN THE SERVICE

LIEUTENANT HAFRON

MISS SNYDER

ENSIGN KOSS

It is with pride that the school presents three members of its faculty now in the Armed Forces of our country. Miss Mary Dee Snyder, gymnasium instructor for girls and coach of their intramural teams, enlisted in the WAVES and was accepted for officers' training. She reported to Smith College on May 8 for training.

Ensign Harry Koss was head coach of football and baseball before he received his commission in March of this year. He is now at Chapel Hill, N. C., for training.

Lieutenant Charles Hafron (j. g.) was assistant coach in football and baseball. He received his commission last fall, and after training at Chapel Hill, N. C., was assigned to the Navy Pre-flight School at the University of Iowa.

The loss to the school and the student body due to the absence of these three instructors is irreplaceable. But the Navy and our country's cause has gained. We know they will uphold the fine tradition of the Service. Best wishes and good luck to all three of you!

Coach Harry A. Koss wound up his coaching career, at least for the duration, as he came through his third season at Riley having chalked up four wins, a tie, and four losses. Shortly after the completion of the season our youthful coach followed his capable assistant, Charles Hafron, into the Navy as an officer.

As school opened last fall Duke Ferrell was added to our coaching staff and at present he is the only one of the football coaches left at school. Mr. Ferrell also served as the Bee team basketball coach and as baseball coach.

LEW WALLACE

The Wildcats opened their season against the powerful 1941 State Champs, Lew Wallace Hornets and were successful in overcoming the opponents, who outweighed them 40 pounds per man, by a 6-0 count. Coach Koss used a shifty, clever running attack and a colorful passing attack, which was to make the Cats feared, in overcoming the opposition's brawn. Riley's score came as a result of a fumble, a pass and then Evans' bucking through center for the tally.

FORT WAYNE NORTH SIDE

The Wildcats unleashed an aerial attack in the second game of the season that left their opponents, the Fort Wayne North Side Redskins, staggering under a 32-12 score. George St. Clair and Ralph Stickley were the mainstays of the passing attack.

Left to right, top row: St. Clair, Husvar, G. Kovatch. Second row: Vovnovich, Meier, R. Stickley. Third row: Kosonovich, Dumont, Macri. Fourth row: Evans, Slauson, Tutorow.

LAPORTE

Riley entered their third fray, a league battle, to the accompaniment of snow, sleet, rain, mud, and the LaPorte Slicers, but tucked another scalp under their belts on a 16-0 victory. George St. Clair ran for one tally and then passed to Bob Slauson for the other. Don Husvar scored twice from placement and the whole Riley line trapped a Slicer behind his goal.

JOHN ADAMS

Overconfidence left the Wildcats in a bad way but they finally staggered about to beat the Adams' Eagles 7-0 on George St. Clair's pass to Jack Meier. Jack Wedel was the key man in the running attack.

ELKHART

Ralph Stickley saw his sure touchdown pass be intercepted and break up what looked like another Wildcat win as our boys were forced into a heart-breaking 6-6 tie with Elkhart's Blue Blazers.

WASHINGTON

One of the major upsets of the year came when the Washington Panthers over-powered our Wildcats, 32-6. Pete Voynovich blocked a punt, Bob Slauson recovered it and George St. Clair passed to Captain Oda Tutorow for our tally.

BOSSE

Riley gave one away via fumbles to the Bosse of Evansville Bulldogs, 21-13. George St. Clair's passes to Clem Snyder and Oda Tutorow resulted in our touchdowns.

MICHIGAN CITY

With seconds remaining, a Michigan City pass was completed for a touchdown and the winning point of the game as the Red Devils nosed out Riley, 13-12.

CENTRAL

Evans, St. Clair, Dordak, and Souder worked together nicely for one touchdown but it wasn't enough as the Central Bears beat the Cats 14-7 in the final game of the colorful 1942 season.

BASKETBALL

Coach Wayne Wakefield took over when Bob McCarnes left and organized one of the school's finest teams which turned in a record of 13 wins and five losses in the regular season. His boys also finished second in the conference race and were just nosed out in the sectional. Our hats are off to Mr. Wakefield and his fine club which is pictured herein.

BASEBALL AND TRACK

BASEBALL

Coach Duke Ferrell fielded a baseball nine that was rated the team to beat and behind its good pitching staff, it still is. The club's impressive record speaks for itself.

Note: The track, baseball, and golf records were not completed at the time of this printing, but are completed as of the date of May 15, 1943.

TRACK

Coach Wayne Wakefield built his 1943 track team around the few veterans that returned. They were Don Souder, Herbie Lewis, Bill Dumont, Tom Gillen, Charlie Plank, Russ Reece, and Jack Davis. His lineup was also bolstered by the appearance of Bill Ruth, Clem Snyder, Bill Smith, Wayne Slauson, Louie Reynolds, Russ Ryker, Dick Swartz, Jim Schulz and Scotty McIntyre.

The Wildcat squad figured especially strong in the mile where our three milers, Lewis, Reece, and Reynolds came through many times; in fact they swept this event in our dual meet with the powerful Central Bears.

Leading scorer of the team is Don Souder who runs the hurdles and the dashes and who was elected honorary captain of the team. Don stacked up a grand total of 81 points this season. Our half-milers are also two veterans, Gillen and Plank, both of whom won their share of events. In the quarter-mile, Coach Wakefield had an often-time winner, Bill Ruth, and a good man for placing, Donnie Cherrone. The Wildcats were also strong in the shot put where Bill Dumont and Clem Snyder hurled the heavy ball for Riley. Dumont was the only Riley man to earn a trip downstate by virtue of his second in the sectional.

In another field event the Wildcats had Wayne Slauson and Bill Ruth as the boys to go up and over. Our high jumping was done by Dumont and a promising sophomore, Bill Smith. Jack Davis, Russ Ryker, Souder, and Smith did our broad jumping. Pete Voynovich also tied for second in pole vault in the sectional.

GOLF

Golf

With hardly the nucleus of a team to start the season Mr. Shafer's golf team turned in a fairly good season. Graduation riddled the ranks of last year's team that made such a strong showing in Conference circles. The team was composed of Don Meek who shot the lowest scores on an average throughout the season, Paul Williams who had the lowest team score in the tournament, Kim Seitz, Claude Wolfe, Allen Holmes and Kenneth McIntyre. The team finished fifth in the invitational tournament at La Porte and ranked third in the conference standings. Season's scores:

Riley	5 ½	Michigan City	6 ½
Riley	4	Central	4
Riley	11 ½	La Porte	3 ½
Riley	5	Central	6
Riley	3	Michigan City	9
Riley	10 ½	Adams	4 ½

The Coaches

As the school year drew to a close only four coaches remained at Riley. Miss Murphy, coach of tennis, Mr. Wakefield, head coach of basketball and track, Mr. Ferrell, head coach of baseball and assistant in basketball, and Mr. Shafer coach of golf. Mr. Horn was appointed coach of Junior High baseball this Spring.

Just as this book was going to press, Mr. Ferrell received his Ensign's commission in the Navy, and was awaiting orders to report. Thus, the school loses another fine teacher and coach, and that he will be missed goes without saying. We know he will make a fine officer. To him goes our congratulations and a fervent wish for a safe return.

As we go to press, Miss Mary Alice Kitson, of the Math Department, was notified to report for officers training in the Marine Corps.
